Figure 1 consists of three vertically stacked bar charts. The top chart covers the years 1990-1999, the middle chart covers 2000-2009, and the bottom chart covers 2010-2014. The y-axis for all charts is labeled 'Number of publications' and ranges from 0 to 1000. The x-axis is labeled 'Year' and shows the start and end years of each period. Each chart contains 10 bars, representing the number of publications per year. In all three periods, there is a general upward trend in the number of publications. The 2010-2014 period shows the highest number of publications, with the 2014 bar reaching approximately 950.
